LOCATION: Ciudad Quesada is a residential area located in the municipality of Rojales, in the province of Alicante, in the Vega Baja del Segura region. It was founded in the 1970s by the businessman Justo Quesada, who developed a macro-urbanisation with more than 30,000 homes and its own golf court. This initiative initially attracted Swiss residents and, later, a large British community, making Rojales the Spanish municipality with the highest percentage of registered British residents, reaching 71% of its total population.
